Italians Report Counter-Revolutionary Move Is Gaining Headway There

London, Sept. 4.—An exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome today says Premier Mussolini told the cabinet that if the council of the League of Nations asserts its competency to deal with the Italian-Greek controversy Italy will withdraw from the league.

TO MAINTAIN POSITION

London, Sept. 4.—A Central News dispatch from Rome today says that Premier Mussolini specifically has instructed Italian delegates to the League of Nations that he has absolutely determined to maintain his position that the league is incompetent to deal with cases in which the honor and prestige of Italy are concerned.

REPORT REVOLUTION

Rome, Italy, Sept. 4.—A counter-revolutionary Republican movement is under way in Greece, says a dispatch today. The movement is gaining ground despite drastic measures taken by the government including the immediate arrest of all suspects and confiscation of arms, the dispatch says.

The followers of the late King Constantine's party are said to be preparing for action.

Athens is completely isolated and the Greek government is allowing no reports concerning the "grave internal situation" to be sent from the capital, says the dispatch.

REPORT DENIED

London, Sept. 4.—The Greek legation here emphatically denied Italian reports of a serious internal trouble in Greece. The latest telegrams from Athens, it was said, indicated complete order prevailed.

SAYS ITALY DENIES IT

Italian delegation to the assembly of the League of Nations today authorized the league secretariat to deny that Italy had ever officially repudiated the competency of the league to handle the Greco-Italian situation.

Geneva, Sept. 4.—The Council of the League of Nations suddenly convened shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon and it was reported among delegates that the Greco-Italian controversy might be taken up.

CELEBRATION ON LABOR DAY BRINGS CROWD

Bismarck and Other Cities

JUDGE GRACE SPEAKS

Declares Labor Unionism Is a Bulwark Against Radicalism in the United States

The tri-city Labor Day celebration, brought great crowds to Bismarck from Mandan, Zap, Garrison, and other cities in western North Dakota. More than 1,500 people were at the baseball park for the Labor Day events held in the morning and afternoon, following the parade.

Former Supreme Court Justice R.
H. Grace was the principal speaker of the day.

Judge Grace sketched the history of labor unionism, told how it was founded and said that it was based on the oldest of all principles of civilization—that people must unite to stand off a common enemy or for common benefit.

Labor unions, he declared, have accomplished good not only for the members but for people generally, by raising the standard of wages and living conditions, the speaker said. The part best tolerated in their attitude, Labor unionism, the speaker continued, is a bulwark against radicalism, and he asserted that he had no use for radicals—declaring that in a democratic country where the people have the power to steer the course of government there could be no place for "direct actionists" or destructive forces. He called America the most free, liberty-loving nation on earth.

Speaking on the subject of a living wage, Judge Grace defined it to mean that a man through an eight-hour workday could obtain enough to get reasonable happiness out of life, to clothe and educate his family and lay aside something for a rainy day.

Judge Grace pointed out that agriculture was being conducted at a loss, that the farmer was gradually becoming impoverished, and said he greatly favored taking steps to fix the price of agricultural products so as to insure a profit to the farmer over the cost of production, thereby strengthening the nation and all business institutions.

Support Strike

Preceding Judge Grace, J. E. Snyder talked briefly upon the anthracite strike called in the east. Among other things he declared that unions would oppose the bituminous fields attempting to break the strike by supplying bituminous to make the strike ineffective. Snyder spoke on request of Wilton miners.

A resolution declaring support for the anthracite workers was adopted.
The celebration opened in the morning with a parade, headed by St. Mary's band. The parade included many interesting floats. A street dance was held at night.

is estimated here to be 300,000.
The flames of the blazing capital have been visible for 200 miles. According to reports received here the earth shocks are continuing while a volcano 40 miles from Tokio is still active.

San Francisco, Sept. 4.—(By the A. P.)—Casualties from the earthquake and fire total 500,000 and 300,000 houses have been burned, it is estimated by the Metropol-

(By the Associated Press.)

Virtual destruction of Tokio and Yokohama are reported in first direct communication received from Tokio by the outside world since earthquake and tidal wave followed in places by fire laid waste an important section of Hondo, chief island of Japan, last Saturday.

The communication was from an Associated Press staff correspondent.

The first comprehensive view of the havoc was received in cable advices from Osaka.

It appears from these that the disaster is greater than previous reports have indicated. The ministry of marine estimates the dead in Tokio alone at 150,000; the best estimates place the dead in Yokohama at 100,000; virtual destruction of Magoya, a town of 620,000, is reported and Yokosuka, a town of 70,000, is said to have been wiped out by the successive attacks of earthquakes, tidal wave and fire.

Monetary loss in Tokio alone is placed at two and one-half billion dollars.

Martial law is effective in the stricken cities; none may enter without the most urgent reasons or without carrying their own food supplies.

The death or injury of several members of the royal houses is feared, though the emperor, empress and prince-regent are safe. Reports that the new premier Count Yamamoto has been assassinated are current but there is little confirmation for any stronger statement that that he was attacked and the attackers aim frustrated.

Several islands including Neoshima, noted beauty spot, and one of the Bonin group on which is the Japan end of a trans-Pacific cable length, are reported to have disappeared into the sea but there has been no confirmation of this.

Communications are at a standstill. It is expected that it will be at least a month before the line running from Tokio to Kobe will be in operation again.

METHOD TO GET NEWS

San Francisco, Sept. 4.—The foregoing dispatch is the first direct from Tokio to the outside world since the disaster which overwhelmed Japan.

It was relayed by the Iwaki radio station by courier under a system set up by the Associated Press as soon as it became evident that ordinary means of communication had failed in the face of the great holocaust.

Couriers were sent from Iwaki station 155 miles to Tokio. The Associated Press correspondent meantime while believed to have started couriers northward to the radio plant as not enough time has elapsed for a round trip to have been made under the difficult conditions existing from the capital to the radio plant.

The courier system, however, was only one of a means utilized to get intelligence reports of the catastrophe for the benefit of the Associated Press member newspapers Cablegrams coming by a roundabout way—wireless to Iwaki; wireless to vessels in the vicinity of Japan and the sending of Associated Press staff men from their stations in China and elsewhere in the Far East.

The first direct message from Japan's capital was filed by the Associated Press correspondent at Tokio with the cooperation of Reuters' Limited.

The tri-city Labor Day celebration brought great crowds to Bismarck from Mandan, Zap, Garrison, and other cities in western North Dakota. More than 1,500 people were at the baseball park for the Labor Day events held in the morning and afternoon, following the parade.

Former Supreme Court Justice R. H. Grace was the principal speaker of the day. Judge Grace sketched the history of labor unionism, told how it was founded and said that it was based on the oldest of all principles of civilization—that people must unite to stand off a common enemy or for common benefit.

Labor unions, he declared, have accomplished good not only for the members but for people generally, by raising the standard of wages and living conditions, the speaker said. The unions, he asserted, had for the most part been tolerant in their attitude.

Labor unionism, the speaker continued, is a bulwark against radicalism, and he asserted that he had no use for radicals—declaring that in a democratic country where the people have the power to steer the course of government there could be no place for "direct actionists" or destructive forces. He called America the most free, liberty-loving nation on earth.

Speaking on the subject of a living wage, Judge Grace declared that in a democratic country where the people have the power to steer the course of government there could be no place for "direct actionists" or destructive forces. He called America the most free, liberty-loving nation on earth.

Judge Grace pointed out that agriculture was being conducted at a loss, that the farmer was gradually becoming impoverished, and said he greatly favored taking steps to fix the price of agricultural products so as to insure a profit to the farmer over the cost of production, thereby strengthening the nation and all business institutions.

Support Strike
Preceding Judge Grace, J. E. Snyder talked briefly upon the anthracite strike called in the east. Among other things he declared that unions would oppose the bituminous fields attempting to break the strike by supplying bituminous to make the strike ineffective. Snyder spoke on request of Wilton miners.

A resolution declaring support for the anthracite workers was adopted. The celebration opened in the morning with a parade, headed by St. Mary's band. The parade included many interesting floats. A street dance was held at night.

Disaster to Tokio, Japanese Capital, and Yokohama, Chief Seaport, Greater Than at First Reported—Each Additional Dispatch Adds to Story of Horror and Great Loss of Life and Property—Many Foreigners Lose Lives; Members of Royalty Killed

FLAMES VISIBLE 200 MILES
Harbin, Manchuria, Sept. 4.—The loss of life in Tokio is estimated here to be 300,000.

The flames of the blazing capital have been visible for 200 miles. According to reports received here the earthquake shocks are continuing while a volcano 40 miles from Tokio is still active.

San Francisco, Sept. 4.—(By the A. P.)—Casualties from the earthquake and fire total 500,000 and 300,000 houses have been burned, it is estimated by the Metropolitan Police of Tokio according to a courier from Oyama, who reported today at Tomoka to the radio corporation of America.

Virtual destruction of Tokio and Yokohama are reported in first direct communication received from Tokio by the outside world since earthquake and tidal wave followed in places by fire laid waste an important section of Hondo, chief island of Japan, last Saturday.

The communication was from an Associated Press staff correspondent.

The first comprehensive view of the havoc was received in cable advices from Osaka.

It appears from these that the disaster is greater than previous reports have indicated. The ministry of marine estimates the dead in Tokio alone at 150,000; the best estimates place the dead in Yokohama at 100,000; virtual destruction of Magoya, a town of 620,000, is reported and Yokosuka, a town of 70,000, is said to have been wiped out by the successive attacks of earthquakes, tidal wave and fire.

Monetary loss in Tokio alone is placed at two and one-half billion dollars.

Martial law is effective in the stricken cities; none may enter without the most urgent reasons or without carrying their own food supplies.

The death or injury of several members of the royal houses is feared, though the emperor, empress and prince-regent are safe. Reports that the new premier Count Yamamoto has been assassinated are current but there is little confirmation for any stronger statement that that he was attacked and the attackers aim frustrated.

Several islands including Neoshima, noted beauty spot, and one of the Bomin group on which is the Japan end of a trans-Pacific cable length, are reported to have disappeared into the sea but there has been no confirmation of this.

Communications are at a standstill. It is expected that it will be at least a month before the line running from Tokio to Kobe will be in operation again.

LAHR 'BUCKING AUTO' STUNT THRILLS MANY

The Lahr Motor Sales Company, as usual, was on the job at Mandan, entertaining the people of this section of the state with their Bucking Overland. Judging from the applause each day when the Bucking Overland came out onto the track, it was the hit of the fair.

Each year the Lahr Motor Sales Company put on an exhibition at the fair. Although this Bucking Overland surpassed any previous attempt in entertaining qualities as well as to furnish more severe tests of the steering qualities of the Overland Car.

Two years ago it was a jumping stunt that thrilled the fair crowds.

An Overland car at that time leaped 18 feet over a 6-foot barrier, landing safely on the other side. This test proved the excellent equilibrium of the car, as well as the excellent quality of the springs.

"But this year all parts of the car get an even more severe test, with especial emphasis on the practically unbreakable patented triplex springs, the greatest improvement in the automobile industry since the invention of pneumatic tires. This test places a strain on the springs equal to a continuous shower of blows of 8000 pounds intensity on each spring, and the diagonal wrenching strain to the chassis when all four wheels are running in different positions is equal to the combined wrenching weight of six cars.

"The triplex spring suspension gives a springbase of 130 inches, resulting in new comfort combined with greater economy. The diagonal suspension reduces sideways bobbing and pitching is minimized. They absorb shocks, instead of passing them onto the frame and body. Other springs would not stand the strain that the triplex got in this stunt. This test is an excellent tribute to the stamina built into Overland cars. The car is equipped with four eccentric wheels, each four inches off center. Thus, each hub or axle describes a circle 8 inches in diameter, carrying the car upward and downward, fast or slow, as the driver wills. It can easily be realized that each swerve or turn of the car causes a complete change in the relative position of all wheels, and naturally brings about an exciting series of perplexing lurches, jumps and bucks. The Lahr Motor Sales Company, at the request of the Dickinson Fair Management, will show the Bucking Overland there next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Every Ton of North Dakota Coal Purchased Now Means Another Ton Shipped Into Adjoining States!

North Dakota mines today are working part time. Hundreds of men are idle three or four days a week, men who could be bringing home a full week's pay envelope every Saturday night if the people of North Dakota would purchase at least a part of their winter's supply of coal now. When the cold weather arrives in a few weeks, mining and transportation facilities will be taxed to capacity with North Dakota orders, and demands from adjoining states cannot be met. Coal shipped from North Dakota into other states brings additional money into North Dakota, but this money will go to the eastern coal fields to help develop eastern states unless the people of North Dakota cooperate by buying coal now.

Every coal user in North Dakota, whether he is a banker, business man or farmer, should grasp the opportunity presented by the present coal situation. We tell of our vast coal resources with pride, we admit the facts and see a bright future for North Dakota coal interests but unless we are ready to cooperate and help the coal operators extend the market for North Dakota coal, we are not doing our full share to hasten the development of our own state. Remember—every ton of North Dakota coal purchased now means another ton shipped into adjoining states. Every ton shipped into Minnesota or South Dakota means a bigger and better North Dakota.

Buy at Least a Part of Your Winter's Supply of North Dakota Coal Now--That's the Test of Real Interest in the Development of North Dakota!*TO THE COAL DEALER—

Your customers and prospective customers have been informed of the present coal situation in North Dakota. State officials have warned them of the necessity of buying at least a part of their winter's coal supply now. They have experienced coal shortages in the past and fully appreciate the fact that all cannot be promptly served if buying is delayed until the first touch of winter is felt. Many of them are users of North Dakota coal. Others could be interested in becoming users of North Dakota coal. Reach them with a personal appeal to buy their coal now. A half hour's effort on your part will result in disposing of three or four cars of coal this week. The operators are prepared to give you the service every dealer appreciates. They will furnish you with literature, giving your customers complete information as to the best methods of storing and burning lignite.

It's good business judgment for you to make the effort. If the 1,500 retail dealers in North Dakota would do it, thousands of dollars from other states would be sent to North Dakota to pay miners' wages, taxes and a return in the investment made by coal operators who are citizens of North Dakota and are doing their part to make North Dakota a bigger and better state.

Try it today!

By writing any North Dakota operator, retail dealers can secure a liberal supply of booklets on lignite for their customers. This booklet tells how to use lignite for domestic and industrial purposes. It is free and coal users should ask their dealers for a copy.

NORTH DAKOTA LIGNITE COAL OPERATORS ASSOCIATION

BISMARCK, N. D.

TO THE COAL USER—

In another month or six weeks you will have to have coal in your basement. The state railroad commission has given warning that unless there is an immediate buying of coal in North Dakota, transportation facilities will not be equal to the demand for moving the crop and moving coal when cold weather arrives. The threatened anthracite strike has resulted in fields generally shipping coal to the Northwest directing a part of their output to anthracite sections. This means that North Dakota lignite will be in demand in a larger part of Minnesota and South Dakota. To meet this demand and bring this money into North Dakota, the coal operators must have your cooperation by you buying coal now.

The day has passed when a North Dakota coal user has to experiment with lignite. The entire western half of the state, and many communities in eastern North Dakota, use lignite exclusively for all purposes. Lignite users effect a saving of from 20 to 40 per cent in fuel bills and have learned that it can be burned in stoves and furnaces without special grates or other special equipment. In view of this, knowing that it is a satisfactory and economical fuel, the North Dakota coal operators feel justified in seeking the cooperation asked.

DEATH CLAIMS ROBT. COTTON, N. D. PIONEER

Succumbs After Lingering Illness Due to Kidney Trouble

WAS WILTON MAYOR

Took Leading Part in Political Life of State and Community

Robert Cotton, one of the directors of the First National Bank of Wilton and pioneer business man of this part of North Dakota died this morning at the age of 65 at a local hospital after a lingering illness due to kidney trouble and complications.

The deceased had retired from active business life several years ago after a long period of service to his community. He came to North Dakota in 1887 from Mount Eden, Kentucky where he was born April 5, 1858 and received his educational training. He first located at Williamsport, Minnesota county where he took up a homestead and tree claim, proving up on both and remaining there for eight years. After selling his property here he removed to Bismarck where as a commission merchant he engaged in buying and selling stock for four years.

In the fall of 1899 Mr. Cotton became a resident of Wilton and started out in the livery business. He ran a livery barn for twelve years. On disposing of this business he moved to Wing where he also conducted a livery stable and dealt in farm machinery and fuel for a year and a half. At the end of that time he sold out and returned to Wilton where in 1914 he opened a blacksmith shop which he conducted until a short time ago.

He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of the World. The deceased is survived by his wife, one daughter, Hazel, and two sons, Homer and James of Wyoming.

DIVET OBJECTS TO PROPOSED BANK TAXING

Declares It Is Not Square in View of Bank's Voluntary
Payment of Tax

A. G. Divet of Fargo, attorney for the North Dakota Bankers Association, appeared before the Burleigh county board of commissioners this morning at the time set for the hearing on the notice of F. O. Hellstrom, employed specially by the board to ferret out tax evasions, representing the banks of the county which had been served with notices to show why certain taxes should not be assessed against them. It was proposed by Mr. Hellstrom to tax the banks for the years 1919, 1920, 1921 and 1922, covering particularly the years on which the legislature provided for the levy of no tax, and for which the bankers paid voluntarily a tax upon a valuation of 50 percent on bank stock.

Mr. Divet filed objections to the jurisdiction of the board holding it was without authority in law for the procedure affecting banks. He argued both the legal aspects of the matter and went into the merits, however.

The bankers' spokesman said that the bankers had paid a tax voluntarily when the legislature had neglected to tax them. A part of his argument became a colloquy with Mr. Hellstrom.

Mr. Divet asked whether Mr. Hellstrom considered it fair to attempt to tax the banks now when section 2 of the validating act had been held up for referendum to the people. He said that if the people upheld the law the state would be wiped clean any steps be taken which might force about 20 banks in the state to pay the tax which all banks had agreed to pay, but which they were not legally obligated to pay.

This afternoon the commissioners were to take up the matter of taxing various individuals and corporations.

DEATH CLAIMS ROBT. COTTON, N. D. PIONEER

Succumbs After Lingering Illness Due to Kidney Trouble

WAS WILTON MAYOR

Took Leading Part in Political Life of State and Community

Robert Cotton, one of the directors of the First National Bank of Wilton and pioneer business man of this part of North Dakota died this morning at the age of 65 at a local hospital after a lingering illness due to kidney trouble and complications. The deceased had retired from active business life several years ago after a long period of service to his community. He came to North Dakota in 1887 from Mount Eden, Kentucky where he was born April 5, 1858 and received his education at the University of Kentucky. He first located at Wilton, Minn., and later moved to Wilton, N. D., where he took up a homestead and tree claim, proving up on both and remaining there for eight years. After selling his property here he removed to Bismarck where as a commission merchant he engaged in buying and selling stock for four years.

In the fall of 1899 Mr. Cotton became a resident of Wilton and started up in the livery business. He ran a livery barn for two years. On disposing of this business he moved to Wing where he also conducted a livery stable and dealt in farm machinery and fuel for a year and a half. At the end of that time he sold out and returned to Wilton where in 1914 he opened a blacksmith shop which he conducted until a short time ago.

Mr. Cotton was married in Kentucky in 1902 to Miss Mamie Briel, a native of Louisville. He was a republican and took an active part in the political affairs of the state. He was appointed deputy sheriff of McLean county and served in that capacity for twelve years. During that time he was elected to the office of village council and filled the office of alderman until elected mayor of Wilton in 1912, serving in that capacity for three terms, after which he held the position of Police Magistrate up to the present time. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of the World. The deceased is survived by his wife, one daughter, Hazel, and two sons, Homer and James of Wyoming.

DIVET OBJECTS TO PROPOSED BANK TAXING

Declares It Is Not Square in View of Bank's Voluntary
Payment of Tax

A. G. Divet of Fargo, attorney for the North Dakota Bankers Association, appeared before the Burleigh county board of commissioners this morning at the time set for the hearing on the notice of F. O. Hellstrom, employed specially by the board to ferret out tax evasions, representing the banks of the county which had been served with notices to show why certain taxes should not be assessed against them. It was proposed by Mr. Hellstrom to tax the banks for the years 1919, 1920, 1921 and 1922, covering particularly the years on which the legislature provided for the levy of no tax, and for which the bankers paid voluntarily a tax upon a valuation of 50 percent on bank stock.

Mr. Divet filed objections to the jurisdiction of the board, holding it was without authority in law for the procedure affecting banks. He argued both the legal aspects of the matter and went into the merits, however.

The bankers' spokesman said that the bankers had paid a tax voluntarily when the legislature had neglected to tax them. A part of his argument became a colloquy with Mr. Hellstrom.

Mr. Divet asked whether Mr. Hellstrom considered it fair to attempt to tax the banks now when section 2 of the validating act had been held up for referendum to the people. He said that if the people upheld the law the state would be wiped clean and the board could not act. If the people turned down the law the board still could take the action they now are taking, he said.

Mr. Divet denied that he had anything to do with the validating law of the last legislature, saying that he believed the law was retroactive and therefore unconstitutional.

Mr. Hellstrom declared the theory of summoning the banks in to show cause why they should not be taxed was that all other methods to assess taxes against the bank had failed.

With regard to the validating law, Mr. Divet said that he knew the legislature was enacting it, and while he did not think it was constitutional he might be mistaken, and that he had said that he was willing that any steps be taken which might force about 20 banks in the state to pay the tax which all banks had agreed to pay, but which they were not legally obligated to pay.

This afternoon the commissioners were to take up the matter of taxing various individuals and corporations.

Moran, Sunny Brook Dairy Farm, Bismarck, says: "I had an operation for a floating kidney which was successful but afterwards the other kidney became affected and I suffered for nearly a year with lameness across my back. I got so dizzy I couldn't stand. I went to the hospital and took treatments but got worse all the time. I read about Doan's Kidney Pills being good and got some. After using two boxes I was entirely well and have since stood kidney tests for insurance and passed O. K., thanks to Doan's."

MAIN STREET FLAVOR KEPT

Picturization of Famous Sinclair Lewis Novel Here

Main Street" with all its flavor and rural charm, the peculiarities, humors, poignancies, high and low spots, is recorded with uncanny skill and genius in "Main Street," which opened yesterday at the Eltinge theater with Florence Vidor and Monte Blue in the featured roles. The picture also will be shown today and Wednesday.

"Main Street," in the novel form by Sinclair Lewis, was the most widely discussed book ever published in America, not excepting even "Uncle Tom's Cabin," it dealt with the life of the small town and aroused more comment pro and con than anything of its kind. It is a long time since the screen has seen anything like the ensemble of actors assembled in "Main Street" — a distinguished cast that gives dash and life to the action. Think of these players all being in one picture: Florence Vidor, Monte Blue, Harry Myers, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Robert Gordon, Josephine Crowell, Gordon Griffith, Otis Harlan and Alan Hale.

The story is familiar to many: Carol Kennicott, her revolt against what she finds in Gopher Prairie, a Main Street town, her attempts to make it fit with the ideals, she has acquired from books and college, her fight. The picture should be seen by everyone, for Main Street is a little world, and the world is composed of nothing but Main Street.

Praise is due the able direction by Harry Beaumont, and to Julien Josephson, who wrote the scenario. "Main Street" is a great picture.

It's so Easy to make perfect Jelly & Jams

NEW PEN-JEL-GO

It takes minutes now, where it used to take hours, to make the most delicious jams and jellies. Mother used to be so terribly particular, too, because she knew that the least slip "in the making" resulted in spoiling many dollars worth of sugar and fruit. But—now, with Pen-Jel—because she knows that following directions can make jam and jelly without the least fear of failure—because she knows that New Pen-Jel insures success. New Pen-Jel is a pure fruit jelly—never spoils—very inexpensive, too. Jellies and jams can be made for less than a penny an ounce.

Try this Recipe for Delicious Grape Jelly
Place 3 cups grape juice in large preserving kettle. Add 1 package New Pen-Jel and stir until it comes to a vigorous boil. Add 2 level cups sugar and bring back to vigorous boil, boiling 2 to 4 minutes, depending on size. Pour into glasses and paraffin.

Every Ton of North Dakota Coal Purchased Now Means Another Ton Shipped Into Adjoining States!

North Dakota mines today are working part time. Hundreds of men are idle three or four days a week, men who could be bringing home a full week's pay envelope every Saturday night if the people of North Dakota would purchase at least a part of their winter's supply of coal now. When the cold weather arrives in a few weeks, mining and transportation facilities will be taxed to capacity with North Dakota orders, and demands from adjoining states cannot be met. Coal shipped from North Dakota into other states brings additional money into North Dakota, but this money will go to the eastern coal fields to help develop eastern states unless the people of North Dakota cooperate by buying coal now.

Every coal user in North Dakota, whether he is a banker, business man or farmer, should grasp the opportunity presented by the present coal situation. We tell of our vast coal resources with pride, we admit the facts and see a bright future for North Dakota coal interests but unless we are ready to cooperate and help the coal operators extend the market for North Dakota coal, we are not doing our full share to hasten the development of our own state. Remember—every ton of North Dakota coal purchased now means another ton shipped into adjoining states. Every ton shipped into Minnesota or South Dakota means a bigger and better North Dakota.

Buy at Least a Part of Your Winter's Supply of North Dakota Coal Now--That's the Test of Real Interest in the Development of North Dakota!*TO THE COAL DEALER—

Your customers and prospective customers have been informed of the present coal situation in North Dakota. State officials have warned them of the necessity of buying at least a part of their winter's coal supply now. They have experienced coal shortages in the past and fully appreciate the fact that all cannot be promptly served if buying is delayed until the first touch of winter is felt. Many of them are users of North Dakota coal. Others could be interested in becoming users of North Dakota coal. Reach them with a personal appeal to buy their coal now. A half hour's effort on your part will result in disposing of three or four cars of coal this week. The operators are prepared to give you the service every dealer appreciates. They will furnish you with literature, giving your customers complete information as to the best methods of storing and burning lignite.

It's good business judgment for you to make the effort. If the 1,500 retail dealers in North Dakota would do it, thousands of dollars from other states would be sent to North Dakota to pay miners' wages, taxes and a return in the investment made by coal operators who are citizens of North Dakota and are doing their part to make North Dakota a bigger and better state.

Try it today!

By writing any North Dakota operator, retail dealers can secure a liberal supply of booklets on lignite for their customers. This booklet tells how to use lignite for domestic and industrial purposes. It is free and coal users should ask their dealers for a copy.

BISMARCK, N. D.

TO THE COAL USER—

In another month or six weeks you will have to have coal in your basement. The state railroad commission has given warning that unless there is an immediate buying of coal in North Dakota, transportation facilities will not be equal to the demand for moving the crop and moving coal when cold weather arrives. The threatened anthracite strike has resulted in fields generally shipping coal to the Northwest directing a part of their output to anthracite sections. This means that North Dakota lignite will be in demand in a larger part of Minnesota and South Dakota. To meet this demand and bring this money into North Dakota, the coal operators must have your cooperation by you buying coal now.

The day has passed when a North Dakota coal user has to experiment with lignite. The entire western half of the state, and many communities in eastern North Dakota, use lignite exclusively for all purposes. Lignite users effect a saving of from 20 to 40 per cent in fuel bills and have learned that it can be burned in stoves and furnaces without special grates or other special equipment. In view of this, knowing that it is a satisfactory and economical fuel, the North Dakota coal operators feel justified in seeking the cooperation asked.

IN GOOD SHAPE

Few cities of the Middle West are in as good shape as Bismarck. This has been attested eloquently in the way the special waterworks bonds are going and the ease with which the city has financed this proposition.

This section of the state is better than any other and is due for a great development in the next few years. Bismarck is the natural gateway for the vast Slope section, and its logical distributing center, but it needs to sell itself to more people who should be regarding this city as their trading center.

Expansion of the trade radius of Bismarck is one of the great problems to be solved by the Association of Commerce. This must be done in various ways. Occasional entertainments, market days and a trade tour now and then are first aids to any city. A large city-country picnic—a real community affair—has been found an excellent medium to bring the people together in a better understanding.

This city is winning praise every day from tourists. We have good service, retail offerings, jobbing of all kinds far beyond the usual city of 9,000 souls, but this city has been lacking in stunts to advertise and bring these features more closely home.

The opening of mail service to Fort Yates soon should be commemorated by some kind of a demonstration from Bismarck for this city alone working for that project and it should celebrate the actual carrying of the first mail over this route by a visit to that section of a committee of representative citizens.

Members of the Association of Commerce got behind the project of direct mail service to Fort Yates and this will mean much in pushing out the trade boundaries of Bismarck. Let's celebrate the completion of direct communication with that enterprising county seat in a way that Fort Yates will remember.

Most of the business from that section has been moving south along the Milwaukee. This small arrangement will assist Bismarck merchants materially. The next move of course must be securing direct rail connections, but as business develops that will come.

Let's show Fort Yates that we are as glad as her citizens are that several days have been lopped off in the time it takes mail to arrive from Bismarck.

Until this route was established it took from a week to ten days to get a return from Bismarck. From twelve to twenty hours should suffice under the new arrangement.

Just one of the things the Association of Commerce has done to help Bismarck grow.

Snap in behind this organization and many other things can be done. Unity of action, elimination of factionalism, and general team work are all that is needed.

Bismarck's chief importance is as a trade center—not as a political center. The little sordid political game that gets a city nowhere has taken too much time and energy here that might be spent more profitably on greater things. We have certain obligations to fulfill as the seat of government, but our growth has not been due to that fact at all—Bismarck is a natural distributing center—a gateway city and along those lines it must grow or lose in the race.

NO PERFECT CRIME

Bernhard Schultz is convicted in the celebrated murder trial in Berlin. The only clue was a single hair held tightly in the fingers of the victim, Hans Friedman, stock broker. Scientists in the courtroom proved by chemistry that the hair came from Schultz's head. He broke down and confessed.

There is no Perfect Crime, except in fiction and the movies. Every criminal leaves a clue, betraying himself, as inevitably as the lightning cannot hide its work after striking the tree.

MEXICAN LAND FOR SALE

Mexico offers, to all its adult citizens, land. Property owned by the government is thrown open, for this purpose, barring reservations. In a general way, if a Mexican doesn't soon own a patch of land it'll be his own fault.

The Obregon government is wise. Its land action is insurance against the most dangerous form of discontent. The man who owns the land on which he lives with his family is rarely a revolutionist.

MONEY ECONOMIC TROUBLE

In Kansas they are bartering clothes for wheat. A farmer buys a popular make of clothes and pays for it with wheat elevator receipts at $1 a bushel.

Money is not needed at all, except as a bookkeeping convenience. Our farmers are learning that our chief economic trouble, as in Europe, is in our money system. If Ford runs for president, his chief play for the farmer vote probably will have to do with a new system of currency.

FOREIGN TRADE IN WEST

Our foreign trade swings to the west. We're doing 1500 million dollars worth of business a year, buying and selling across the Pacific. It's a fifth of our total commerce with outside nations.

Inspiring news this, for our Pacific coast states. And just as important to the rest of us. Our foreign trade future is out yonder where the sun sets. Fodder for gloomsters: We're buying, from the orientals, $1 for each 50 cents we sell them.

RETURN TO WALTZ

The old-fashioned waltz is coming back to its former popularity, according to dancing teachers. They say it is "virtually certain to monopolize the casinos, cabarets and grand ballrooms."

If true, it means much in a moral way, for the waltz is a creature of modesty. There are two sure ways of getting people's "real number"—when they are drunk, and when they dance.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

A COMMENDABLE MOVE

North Dakota people without exception will welcome the recent announcement of the state mill and elevator board to the effect that complete publicity covering every angle of construction and operation of the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks will be given. The new board of managers recently took over control of the enterprises from the industrial commission. It will, however, await a thorough audit of the affairs of the mill and elevator before beginning to function.

In making the announcement the board is only following the policy determined months ago by Governor R. A. Nestos. The step is a commendable one still, it is no more than the taxpayers of the state have a right to expect. It is their money that was used in the building of the project. Their money will be used in paying off the bonds and in meeting deficits, if there be any.

We trust that the board will stick rigidly to its declaration. If it does this it will be serving a good purpose. In past years North Dakota people have been kept in the dark regarding the welfare and financial status of state-owned enterprises. They have paid for this in higher taxes. Now if the torch light of publicity is made to shine upon the operations of the mill, they will have no one to blame but themselves if they permit the project to become a losing proposition.—Dickinson Free.

WATCH TAXES!

Government, national and local is costing every man, woman and child in the United States at the rate of $100 a year, the Washington correspondent of The Star reports from the census bureau. Necessarily the people who pay these taxes should be kept informed in prices and other charges on the public.

When a railroad pays more in taxes than it does in dividends, freight rates must be high enough to include the taxes. Freight rates in turn are charged to the general public in the prices of goods.

Heavy taxes are one important element in the high cost of living. When a city government spends money extravagantly it is adding to the cost of living of every family that lives within its limit. Watch taxes! They are breaking the back of many a man struggling to provide for his family.—Kansas City Star.

"40 ACRES PLUS"

Northwest South Dakota editors met in Minot in convention and among other things adopted a slogan of "40 acres plus" on every farm. The forty acres means corn and feed and the word "plus" is indicated to mean enough cows to get it. Many farmers of the reservation have all of that and more. No district in the state has developed as fast as the Berthold reservation when you consider the short time since the opening when the settlers broke the soil. The "40 acres plus" proposition looks good to us.—Van Hook Reporter.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

The Twins sat as quietly as little mice beside the creek where Mister Gallop, the fairy cowboy, had put them. Nancy under a low pine tree and Nick beside a big rock.

The fairy man was nearly but nobody could see him.

Everything was very still. By and by there was a little scratching sound, then a rustling and pretty soon a crackling.

It was Mrs. Brown Bear and her two boys.

"Come on, there isn't anybody here," the Twins heard her say.

"This will be a fine day to fish."

"Buster, you go over by that big rock, and Bunch, you try that still place beside the pine tree. Now remember to sit very still, and don't grab until your fish gets close to the bank. They are on the lookout for silly grasshoppers that flop into the water."

Justly soon Buster Bear came snorting over to the place where Nick was hiding and sat down on the bank, his greedy little eyes staring hungrily down at Tommy Trout.

Closer and closer came Tommy to the shore and greedier and hungrier grew Buster's eyes.

He was just about to shoot down his paw, when suddenly Nick blew his whistle.

Quick as a wing a rose flew through the air and caught Buster Bear around the neck.

And quick as another wink another rose caught Bunch, who had just reached his paw out for Tommy Trout. Mister Gallop was a fine roper and he had both of them at once.

"Oh, please let my children go!" begged Mrs. Bear. "I'll never let them fish again."

"Then trot along," said Mister Gallop, loosening the ropes. "Next time I won't be so easy!"

NIGHT LETTER FROM MRS. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON TO HER DAUGHTER, LESLIE PRESCOTT

I forgot to mention that, in Karl's last letter which came while you were very ill, he asked my permission to give Alice what he called a modest string of pearls. I think it is preposterous, although I know that a string of pearls means nothing to him. What do you think about it? In some way Alice had found out that he wanted to give them to her and she cabled me yesterday begging me to give my consent. Wire answer.

Night Letter From Leslie Prescott to Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton
I think it would be perfectly all right. Let Alice have her pearls. She has always seemed to feel rather envious of me ever since she gave me that lovely set of imitation ones. Maximum Development

A community seeking the maximum development should concentrate its energies on the production of those things which can be produced to the best advantage.

It must be apparent to every observing citizen that diversified farming is the particular field in which North Dakota can reach its highest development. Corn and hogs, scientific dairying, a smaller wheat acreage and a wider variety of crops, point the way to a greater prosperity since these are the things that we can do most efficiently with our great natural endowments.

This can be accomplished through widespread publicity and the active support of every citizen. In a matter that so vitally affects us all, it is urgent that we use our best efforts to promote the diversified farming program.

Maximum Development

A community seeking the maximum development should concentrate its energies on the production of those things which can be produced to the best advantage.

It must be apparent to every observing citizen that diversified farming is the particular field in which North Dakota can reach its highest development. Corn and hogs, scientific dairying, a smaller wheat acreage and a wider variety of crops, point the way to a greater prosperity since these are the things that we can do most efficiently with our great natural endowments.

This can be accomplished through widespread publicity and the active support of every citizen. In a matter that so vitally affects us all, it is urgent that we use our best efforts to promote the diversified farming program.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

IN GOOD SHAPE
Few cities of the Middle West are in as good shape as Bismarck. This has been attested eloquently in the way the special waterworks bonds are going and the ease with which the city has financed this proposition.

This section of the state is better than any other and is due for a great development in the next few years. Bismarck is the natural gateway for the vast Slope section, and its logical distributing center, but it needs to sell itself to more people who should be regarding this city as their trading center.

Expansion of the trade radius of Bismarck is one of the great problems to be solved by the Association of Commerce. This must be done in various ways. Occasional entertainments, market days and a trade tour now and then are first aids to any city. A large city-country picnic—a real community affair—has been found an excellent medium to bring the people together in a better understanding.

This city is winning praise every day from tourists. We have good service, retail offerings, jobbing of all kinds far beyond the usual city of 9,000 souls, but this city has been lacking in stunts to advertise and bring these features more closely home.

The opening of mail service to Fort Yates soon should be commemorated by some kind of a demonstration from Bismarck for this city alone worked for that project and it should celebrate the actual carrying of the first mail over this route by a visit to that section of a committee of representative citizens.

Members of the Association of Commerce got behind the project of direct mail service to Fort Yates and this will mean much in pushing out the trade boundaries of Bismarck. Let's celebrate the completion of direct communication with that enterprising county seat in a way that Fort Yates will remember.

Most of the business from that section has been moving south along the Milwaukee. This small arrangement will assist Bismarck merchants materially. The next move of course must be securing direct rail connections, but as business develops that will come.

Let's show Fort Yates that we are as glad as her citizens are that several days have been lopped off in the time it takes mail to arrive from Bismarck.

Until this route was established it took from a week to ten days to get a return from Bismarck. From twelve to twenty hours should suffice under the new arrangement.

Just one of the things the Association of Commerce has done to help Bismarck grow.

Snap in behind this organization and many other things can be done. Unity of action, elimination of factionalism, and general team work are all that is needed.

Bismarck's chief importance is as a trade center—not as a political center. The little sordid political game that gets a city nowhere has taken too much time and energy here that might be spent more profitably on greater things. We have certain obligations to fulfill as the seat of government, but our growth has not been due to that fact at all—Bismarck is a natural distributing center—a gateway city and along those lines it must grow or lose in the race.

NO PERFECT CRIME

Bernhard Schultz is convicted in the celebrated murder trial in Berlin. The only clue was a single hair held tightly in the fingers of the victim, Hans Friedman, stock broker. Scientists in the courtroom proved by chemistry that the hair came from Schultz's head. He broke down and confessed.

There is no Perfect Crime, except in fiction and the movies. Every criminal leaves a clue, betraying himself, as inevitably as the lightning cannot hide its work after striking the tree.

MEXICAN LAND FOR SALE

Mexico offers, to all its adult citizens, land. Property owned by the government is thrown open, for this purpose, barring reservations. In a general way, if a Mexican doesn't soon own a patch of land it'll be his own fault.

The Oregon government is wise. Its land action is insurance against the most dangerous form of discontent. The man who owns the land on which he lives with his family is rarely a revolutionist.

MONEY ECONOMIC TROUBLE

In Kansas they are bartering clothes for wheat. A farmer buys a popular make of clothes and pays for it with wheat elevator receipts at $1 a bushel.

Money is not needed at all, except as a bookkeeping convenience. Our farmers are learning that our chief economic trouble, as in Europe, is in our money system. If Ford runs for president, his chief play for the farmer vote probably will have to do with a new system of currency.

FOREIGN TRADE IN WEST

Our foreign trade swings to the west. We're doing 1500 million dollars worth of business a year, buying and selling across the Pacific. It's a fifth of our total commerce with outside nations.

Inspiring news this, for our Pacific coast states. And just as important to the rest of us. Our foreign trade future is out yonder where the sun sets. Fodder for gloomsters: We're buying, from the orientals, $1 for each 50 cents we sell them.

RETURN TO WALTZ

The old-fashioned waltz is coming back to its former popularity, according to dancing teachers. They say it is "virtually certain to monopolize the casinos, cabarets and grand ballrooms."

If true, it means much in a moral way, for the waltz is a creation of modesty. There are two sure ways of getting people's "real number"—when they are drunk, and when they dance.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the news of the day.

A COMMENDABLE MOVE

North Dakota people without exception will welcome the recent announcement of the state mill and elevator board to the effect that complete publicity covering every angle of construction and operation of the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks will be given. The new board of managers recently took over control of the enterprises from the industrial commission. It will, however, await a thorough audit of the affairs of the mill and elevator before beginning to function.

In making the announcement the board is only following the policy determined months ago by Governor R. A. Nelson. The step is a commendable one still. It is no more than the taxpayers of the state have a right to expect. It is their money that was used in the building of the project. Their money will be used in paying off the bonds and in meeting deficits, if there be any.

We trust that the board will stick right to its declaration. If it does this it will be serving a good purpose. In past years North Dakota people have been kept too much in the dark regarding the welfare and financial status of state-owned enterprises. They have paid for this in higher taxes. Now if the torch light of publicity is made to shine upon the operations of the mill, they will have no one to blame but themselves if they permit the project to become a losing proposition.—Dickinson Press.

WATCH TAXES!

Government, national and local is costing every man, woman and child in the United States at the rate of $100 a year, the Washington correspondent of The Star reveals from the census bureau. The people who pay the taxes are not the only ones who are paying in prices and other charges on the public.

When a railroad pays more in taxes than it does in dividends, freight rates must be high enough to include the taxes. Freight rates in turn are charged to the general public in the prices of goods.

Heavy taxes are one important element in the high cost of living. When a city government spends money extravagantly it is adding to the cost of living of every family that lives within its limits. The cost of taxes is the real backbone of the cost of many a man struggling to provide for his family. Kansas City Star.

40 ACRES PLUS

Northwest North Dakota editors in Minot in connection with some other things adopted a slogan of "40 acres plus" on every farm. The forty acres means corn and land and the word "plus" is intended to mean enough cows to milk. Many farmers of the reservation have all of that and more. No district in the state has developed as fast as the Berthold reservation when you consider the short time since the opening when the settlers broke the sod. The "40 acres plus" proposition is good to us.—Yon Hook Reporter.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

The Twins sat as quietly as little mice beside the creek where Mister Gallop, the fairy cowboy, had put them Nancy under a low pine tree and Nick beside a big rock. The fairy had been nearby but nobody could see him.

Everything was very still. By and by there was a little scratching sound, then a rustling and pretty soon a crackling.

It was Mrs. Brown Bear and her two boys. "Come on there isn't anybody here," the Twins heard her say. "This will be a fine day to fish. 'Buster, you go over by that big rock, and Bunch, you try that still place beside the pine tree. Now remember to sit very still, and don't grab until your fish gets close to the bank. They are on the lookout for silly grasshoppers that flop into the water."

Pretty soon Buster Bear came snooping over to the place where Nick was hiding and sat down on the bank, his greedy little eyes staring hungrily down at Tommy Trout.

Closer and closer came Tommy to the shore and greedier and hungrier grew Buster's eyes.

He was just about to shoot down his paw, when suddenly Nick blew his whistle.

Quick as a wing a rope flew through the air and caught Buster Bear around the neck.

And quick as another wink another rope caught Bunch who had just reached his paw for Tommy Trout. Mister Gallop was a fine roper and he had both of them at once.

"Oh, please let my children go!" begged Mrs. Bear. "I'll never let them fish again."

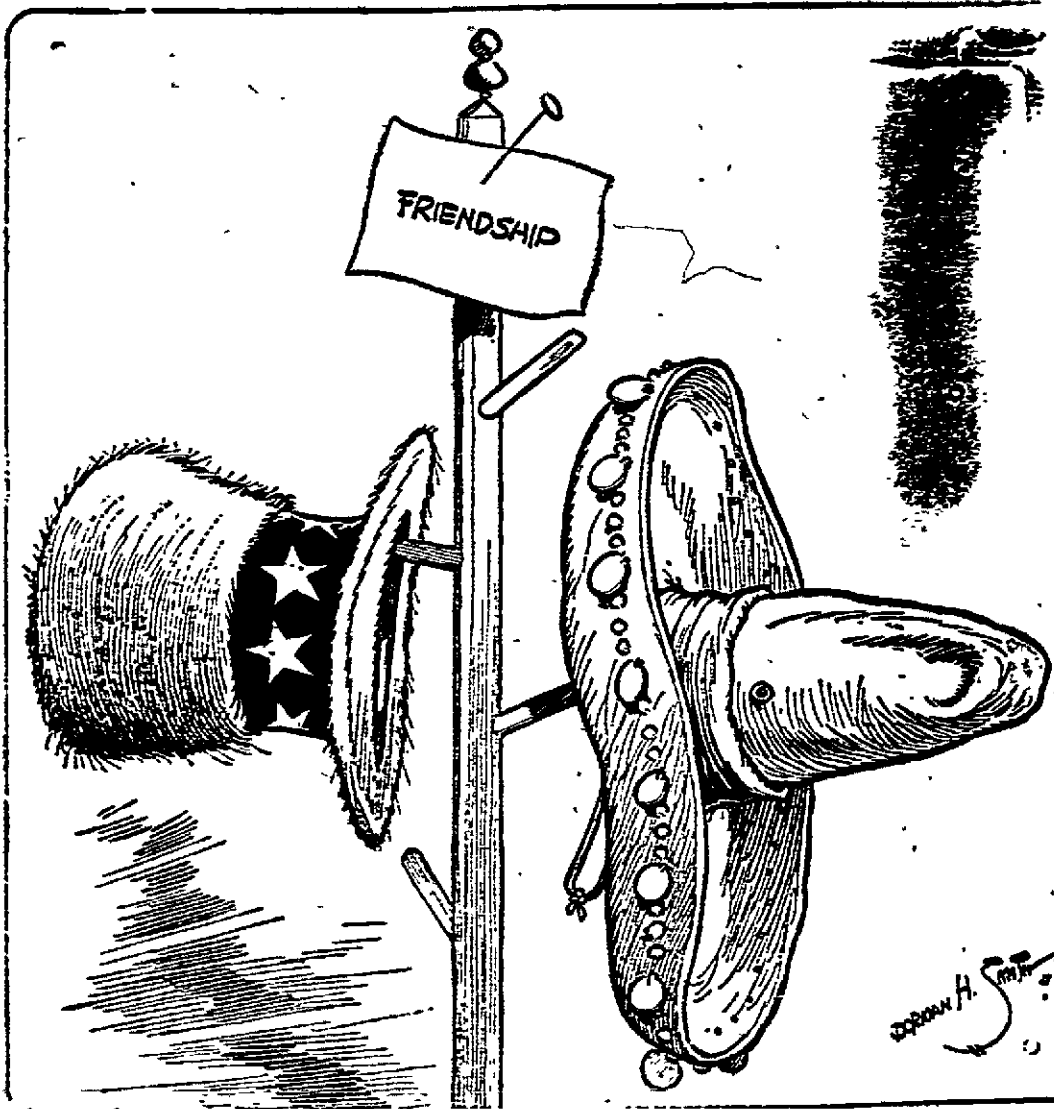

"Then trot along," said Mister Gallop, loosening the ropes. "Next time I won't be easy!"

A Thought

Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips.—Prov. 27:2.

Men of real merit, whose noble and glorious deeds we are ready to acknowledge, are yet not to be found when they count their own actions.—Aeschylus.

Home to Roost on the Family Tree

NIGHT LETTER FROM MRS. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON TO HER DAUGHTER, LESLIE PRESCOTT

I forgot to mention that, in Karl's last letter which came while you were very ill, he asked my permission to give Alice what he called a modest string of pearls. I think it is preposterous, although I know that a string of pearls means nothing to him. What do you think about it? In some way Alice has found out that he wants to give them to her and she called me yesterday begging me to give my consent. Wire answer.

MOTHER.

NIGHT LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO MRS. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON
I think it would be perfectly all right. Let Alice have her pearls. She has always seemed to feel rather envious of me ever since she gave me that lovely set of imitation ones. I think at times she wanted them back. Alice is not grown up yet, although she thinks she is. We all know that Karl looks upon her as his little sister.

LESLIE.

Cable From Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton to Alice Hamilton
Tell Karl he has my consent to give you the pearls. Be sure it is a small string and the pearls are small. Ours would not be becoming to a young girl.

MOTHER.

Cable From Alice Hamilton to Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton
I was so sure you would give your consent that I had already accepted the pearls from Karl. They are wonderful. You are a dear and Karl the sweetest thing that ever lived.

ALICE.

Cable From Karl to Mrs. Joseph Graves Hamilton
Thank you, my dear Mrs. Hamilton, for giving me one of the greatest pleasures of my life. Alice is very happy. Consequently so am I.

KARL.

Note From Mrs. Harry Ellington to Mrs. Leslie Prescott
Harry told me today that you were able to see visitors. I have not yet gotten over the shock of our accident. I think the sight of you, my dear, in full health will have a calming effect upon my nerves.

Will you accept these little lace pillowcases for John Jr.? My, but you are a lucky girl! Not only do you get over your accident splendidly, but you have thrown in for good measure with the gift of your recovery a perfectly beautiful baby boy.

Harry says Jack is always raving about him. Expect me in about four this afternoon.

Jack tells Harry that he would like to get you a new car, but he is afraid to suggest it to you for fear you will feel you could never drive another. I told him that was all nonsense, so if you just intimate to Jack that you have no fear of driving again I expect you will see another coupe at the door when you are able to go out.

I hope you will take me for your first ride.

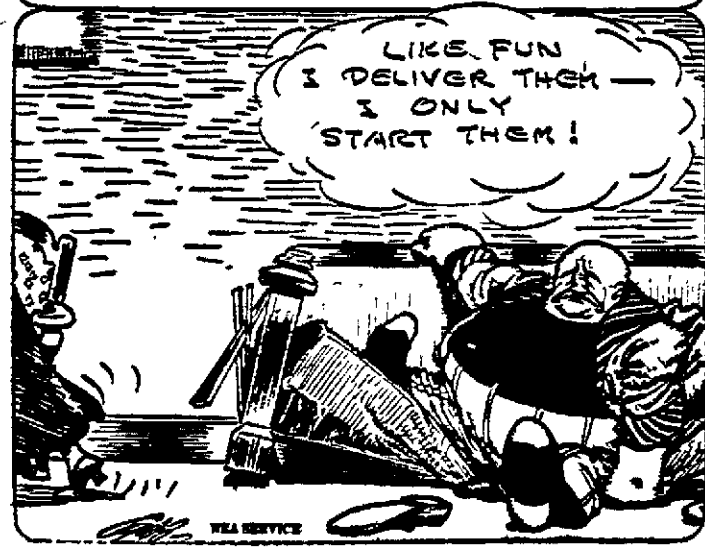

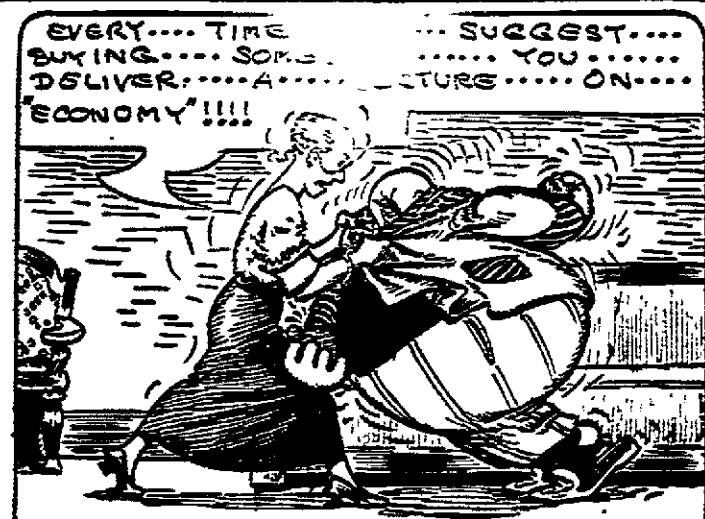

With love,

RUTH.

FIRPO'S RISE IN PRIZE RING SPECTACULAR

South American Fighter, Son of Italian Emigrant, Moves Up in Two Years

A RUGGED FIGHTER

New York, Sept. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Luis Angel Firpo, ex-champ, the son of an Italian emigrant to the Argentine, has sealed the pugilistic heights to challenge for the world's heavyweight title after one of the strangest, most picturesque careers the prize ring has ever known. Unheard of two years ago, he is matched to fight Jack Dempsey, the champion, at the Polo Grounds on September 14.

Big, strong and possessed of a powerful punch, Firpo is recognized by boxing critics here as a dangerous contender for the title, but back in his native Argentine, Luis is more than that—he is a national hero.

Firpo's early career in the land of the pampas gave little forecast of the athletic prowess he was to gain. Born October 29, 1895, nearly 28 years ago, in Buenos Aires, he had little but size and ruggedness to recommend him as a ring prospect. His father, a native of Genoa, Italy, emigrated to the Argentine at an early age. Enrique Firpo was small of stature but his wife, born of Spanish parents in the Argentine, was of much larger build and from her Luis inherited his size. The mother died several years ago, leaving an older brother and a younger sister, besides Luis. The father is now employed in the government railroad offices at Buenos Aires.

Before turning to pugilism as a means of livelihood, Firpo had a variety of occupations, doing odd work as a stevedore for some time. He also earned a little as a bootblack and had another job as bottle-washer in a drug store—the foundation upon which was built the legend that he once was a drug clerk.

Firpo, however, riled under the drudgery of these tasks and devoted most of his spare time to athletics, where he demonstrated all-round prowess through natural aptitude and physical qualifications. He had read of the achievements of the world's great pugilists and one day when a friend took him to a gymnasium he seized a chance to enter the ring against an amateur named Angel Rodriguez.

The disastrous ending of that attempt, in 1917, was the real stimulus to Firpo's ring career. He was knocked out in the first round by Rodriguez, who since has retired from active competition.

That setback, the only one of his career, was followed by a succession of triumphs. Firpo, finding a natural outlet for his physical ability, learned the rudiments of the game rapidly, through relying chiefly on his strength and punch. He knocked out a score of opponents as an amateur. Then, in his first bout as a professional, he knocked out an American, William Daly, in the seventh round. That bout occurred in September, 1919, in Chile, and was followed by a series of knockouts by Firpo among opponents of that country Uruguay and his native land, the Argentine.

By the winter of 1921-22, Firpo had conquered about all the pugilistic opposition South America afforded and began to turn toward other fields. Influenced by sportsmen who had taken an interest in him, Firpo came to the United States early in 1922 and after some time obtained a match with Sailor Matusz, of Newark, N. J., Firpo won by a knockout in seven rounds and then in succession stopped two other lesser heavyweight lights, Italian Jack Herman and Joe McCann, before returning to the Argentine.

Yet unschooled and crude in the finer points of the game, Firpo showed enough promise to attract attention of boxing experts. After bowling over Jim Tracey, Australian, in Buenos Aires, Firpo signed an agreement with Tex Rickard to return to this country for a series of fights, the last with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight title if he won the others.

That marked the rise of Firpo to real prominence and recognition as a title contender. He bowled over Bill Brennan, Jack McAuliffe and then halted a come-back by Jess Willard, besides scoring a number of minor victories here and on a barnstorming trip to Cuba and Mexico. He had battled his way to the top of the heavyweight challenging heap and the title match was a natural outcome.

Puzzling Plays

In a recent minor league game with three balls and two strikes on the batter, the pitcher in starting to deliver the ball to the batsman accidentally struck his knee in winding up, causing the ball to drop to the ground, almost at his feet. The bases were empty at the time.

The umpire ruled that the failure of the pitcher to deliver the ball to the batsman after starting his wind-up should be construed as a ball. He rendered such a ruling, walking the batsman.

Two were out at the time, it was the last of the ninth and the score a tie. The next batter tripped, sending a winning run over the plate. The visiting team claimed the unpire erred in walking the batter by calling a ball when the pitcher accidentally dropped the ball at his feet while winding up.

THE INTERPRETATION.

The umpire erred in calling the pitch a ball and walking the batsman. The rule is very specific relative to a pitcher accidentally dropping the ball in the act of delivering a pitch to the batter. With the bases empty no penalty is imposed.

For the umpire to have ruled it a ball was a mistake. The error on the part of the umpire placed the run on first that won the game. A protest was in order on the part of the team in the field and would have been upheld.

The umpire should have simply ignored the failure to deliver the ball, treating it merely as an accident.

FAMOUS RACE IN 1908 GAVE FANS THRILLS

Far Different From the Runaway Race of the New York Americans Now

By NEA Service

New York, Sept. 4.—The apparent runaway race the New York Yankees are making in the American League this season, in deep contrast recalls the great finish in the same circuit last year. In 1908, for the dash for the flag that year was without a doubt, the most sensational ever witnessed in either of the two major leagues. In that hectic campaign there were no less than four clubs fighting for the leadership way into the month of September. And it was an even battle all around. Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland and St. Louis, the contesting teams, each had an equal chance to cop.

The situation was of further interest in that it was a purely "western" affair, the four Atlantic seaboard clubs all being left out in the cold.

Down the home stretch came the quartet like so many race horses. It looked like a blanket finish. But with about two weeks to play, the St. Louis entry faltered, and was outdistanced, leaving the other three to wage it out. And what a merry old battle it was.

But with the final wire almost in sight, Cleveland, likewise, found the race too hot and fell back, though still remained in the running, should either or both of the other two slack up momentarily. The Indians, in other words, retained an outside chance.

On the last series of the season went the trio, with Detroit and Chicago almost neck and neck. With only three games to play, the Tigers were due in the Windy City to wind up the chase and incidentally decide the pennant winner.

Detroit needed but one of the contests to grab the gonfalon, Chicago had to sweep the series, providing that Cleveland didn't win all four of its games from the Browns, in which case the Indians still had a show.

But Cleveland was put out by St. Louis in the opening tilt, thus giving Detroit and Chicago a clear field. Seemingly to make a sensational finish to an otherwise sensational race, the White Sox captured the first two games, leaving the championship to hinge on the final encounter of the season. Victory for either club meant the pennant, and a chance to get into the world series.

Needless to say, that last game was watched with intense interest throughout the country. Baseball fans were all "het up." For a championship was at stake. And championships aren't won in a day.

But the Tigers, with their backs to the proverbial wall, and on hostile soil, aided by the great pitching of "Wild Bill" Donovan, turned back the chesty Chicago gang, and won their second pennant in as many seasons. Not a single run did the White Sox get off the offerings of Donovan that day, so well was the "Smiler" the master of ceremonies, while the Tigers almost annihilated the Chicago hurlers, leaving no "ifs and ands" as to the rightful victor. And thus ended the 1908 pennant race in the American League. A campaign that no doubt ranks without parallel in the history of baseball.

ROGERS AND VASELL EVEN IN HOT MATCH

Wrestling Bout Here Goes Two Hours Without a Fall Before Holiday Crowd

Stanley Rogers, Bismarck light-weight wrestler, struck a hard mat to handle in George Vassell, claimant of the Greek championship, at the Rialto theater last night, as a part of the Labor Day program. They wrestled two hours without a fall, when the match was declared off by Referee Brady. Both men were still fairly strong, in spite of the fact that the match was hot and heavy from start to finish.

Vassell is the most finished opponent that has gone to the mat with Rogers in Bismarck. Both weighed about the same, around 190 pounds. Rogers is of the build while Vassell is stocky. Both men displayed aggressiveness and wonderful ability in breaking away from holds.

The crowd would like to have seen Rogers win, but was satisfied when the match was called off, because it was one of the best ever seen here. In the semi-windup Thor Jensen, local middleweight, took on Young Prohm of Mason City, Ia., now making his home at Carson. They went 20 minutes without a fall in a match that was fast all the way through.

Brady of Mandan refereed the matches, which were seen by a fair sized crowd. Vassell will stay in Mandan for a few days and then go to Minot, where he is making headquarters at present. A lot of Carson sports want to have Thor Jensen go down there for a finish match with Prehn.

HULL VICTOR IN GOLF PLAY

Fargo, Sept. 4.—Tom Hull of Fargo turned in the lowest medal score for 72 holes on the country club course to win the invitation meet of the club which has been in progress over the week-end. Hull's medal was 346. Dr. R. W. Pote was second with 347 and Harry Woolledge third with 348.

The scores are not exceptionally good on account of the condition of the new 9 holes of the club. Winners of the various medal prizes follow: Best nine holes, William Clare, Grand Forks; 18 holes, R. T. Barnard, Fargo, and 36 holes, Roy Anderson, Grand Forks.

B. C. Tighe of Fargo won the driving contest with 665 yards in three drives. Bob Smith of New Rockford took the approaching and putting contest.

LeROY, KRAUSE ARE VICTORS

Fargo, Sept. 4.—Left hooks and boxing ability gave Russ LeRoy of Fargo a decision over Otto Wallace of Milwaukee at the fair grounds yesterday in the headliner of 10 rounds stage staged by the local chapter or the 40 at 8. The bout climaxed one of the most pleasing careers ever staged in the city. Approximately 1,200 fans saw the bouts.

But Krause of Fargo easily defeated the blood-splattered Bennie Farness of Montevideo in 10 rounds. Early in the fight Krause drew blood from Farness' nose. And like William Jennings Bryan the nose kept on running and handicapped Farness. Although Farness did considerable damage, he could not damage Krause. The ex-flaxen battler played Farness' ribs with a right that made Bennie feel uncomfortable. Krause could not do much by playing for the head and shot his punched for the mid-section.

PIRATES MOVE UPWARD WHEN REDS FALTER

Giants Split Even While Cincinnati Reds Lost on Labor Day

Chicago, Sept. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—The New York Nationals broke even yesterday. Cincinnati lost and Pittsburgh crept up to a position where they may be considered as serious National League contenders. The Reds now are 3 1-2 games behind the Giants and the Pirates are only one game behind the Reds.

The Giants broke even with Boston, winning the first 3 to 2 and losing the second 8 to 1.

The Philadelphia Nationals acquired one side of a double-header in Brooklyn, 4 to 2, while Brooklyn took the other, 5 to 4.

In the Americans the Yankees, Cleveland and Detroit each won twice. The Indians defeated St. Louis 4 to 2 and 5 to 1; the Yanks won the first from Philadelphia after 13 innings, 2 to 1, and the second was won with a three-run rally in the eighth. The Tigers won from the White Sox, 14 to 1, and 6 to 5.

Pittsburgh won from Cincinnati, 7 to 2. The afternoon game was called off because of rain.

In Chicago the St. Louis Nationals won the first game, 1 to 0, and forced the Cubs to 11 innings to win the second, 5 to 4.

The Boston Americans and Washington split in Washington, the home taking the first 5 to 4 and the visitors the second 7 to 3.

COX VICTOR AT GOLF CLUB

Turns in 167 for 36 Holes at Country Club

E. B. Cox won first prize in the Country Club's labor day golf tournament, turning in 167 gross score of 167 in four rounds of nine holes each. He played the first nine in 43, the second in 44 and the third and fourth in 40 each. His low gross score of 167 was four strokes better than the best score in the Fargo invitational Labor Day tournament in which golfers from several cities competed. A. S. Bolster won the prize for the low net score in the tournament, having 175 for the four rounds, as follows: 43, 4, 45 and 43.

MARK TWAIN CELEBRATION IS ENDORSED

The request of Governor Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri, made in a proclamation, asking citizens to read Mark Twain's books during the month of September when a Mark Twain celebration is being held, was endorsed today by Governor Nestos, Samuel L. Clemens was born in Florida, Missouri, November 30, 1835. A Mark Twain Memorial Park Association has been organized for the purpose of purchasing the house and the adjoining land for the establishment of a Mark Twain park.

"While I do not intend to issue a proclamation for the setting aside of a Mark Twain week in the state of North Dakota, I do feel that he has so cheered and comforted thousands of our people who have read his books and will still delight other tens of thousands who have the good sense to read them, that I am very glad indeed to join in the request of Governor Hyde and the officials of the Mark Twain Memorial Park Association of Moberly, Missouri, in urging upon the people of North Dakota that during the month of September while this celebration is being held, they read Mark Twain books and become more familiar with this splendid American author," Governor Nestos said.

$1,000 FOUND IN "BOOK"
London, Sept. 4.—The widow of the late John Troutbeck, for many years coroner for Westminster, had such a surprise when a box, shaped like a book, containing 200 pounds ($1,000), was returned to her, that she fainted. It appears the "book" was among a number which Mrs. Troutbeck sold for three pounds ($15), thinking they were old medical works of her late husband, and of little value. The bookseller on examining them discovered one had a lock, and on opening it found a five-pound note and 190 one-pound notes, which he promptly returned to the widow.

$1,000 FOUND IN "BOOK"
London, Sept. 4.-The widow of the late John Trouthbeck, for many years coroner for Westminster, had such a surprise when a box, shaped like a book, containing 200 pounds ($1,000), was returned to her, that she fainted. It appears the "book" was among a number which Mrs. Trouthbeck sold for three pounds ($15), thinking they were old medical works of her late husband, and of little value. The bookseller on examining them discovered one had a lock, and on opening it found a five-pound note and 190 one-pound notes, which he promptly returned to the widow.

FIRPO'S RISE IN PRIZING SPECTACULAR

South American Fighter, Son of Italian Emigrant, Moves Up in Two Years

A RUGGED FIGHTER

New York, Sept. 4.—By the Associated Press.—The son of an Italian emigrant, the Argentine has scaled the heights of prize fighting in the past two years, moving from a contender for the title to a champion in the process.

His early career in the land of the pampas gave little forecast of the athletic prowess he was to gain. Born October 29, 1905, nearly 26 years ago, in Buenos Aires, he had little big size and ruggedness to recommend him as a ring prospect.

His father, a native of Genoa, Italy, emigrated to the Argentine at an early age. Enrique Firpo was small of stature but his wife, born of Spanish parents in the Argentine, was of much larger build and from her Luis inherited his size.

The mother died several years ago, leaving an older brother and a younger sister, besides Luis. The father is now employed in the government railroad offices at Buenos Aires.

Before turning to pugilism as a means of livelihood, Firpo had a variety of occupations, doing odd work as a stevedore for some time. He also earned a little as a bootblack and had another job as bottle-washer in a drug store—the foundation upon which was built the legend that he once was a drug clerk.

Firpo, however, irked under the drudgery of these tasks and devoted most of his spare time to athletics, where he demonstrated all-around prowess through natural aptitude and physical qualifications. He had read of the achievements of one day when a friend took him to a gymnasium where he seized a chance to enter the ring against an amateur named Angel Rodriguez.

The disastrous ending of that attempt, in 1917, was the real stimulus to Firpo's ring career. He was knocked out in the first round by Rodriguez, who since has retired from active competition.

That setback, the only one of his career, was followed by a succession of triumphs. Firpo, finding a natural outlet for his physical ability, learned the rudiments of the game rapidly, through relying chiefly on his strength and punch. He knocked out a number of opponents as an amateur. Then, in his first bout as a professional, he knocked out an American, William Daly, in the seventh round. That bout occurred in September, 1919, in Chile, and was followed by a string of knockouts by Firpo among opponents in that country, Uruguay and his native land, the Argentine.

By the winter of 1921-22, Firpo had conquered about all the pugilistic opposition South America afforded and began to turn toward other fields. Influenced by sportsmen who had taken an interest in him, Firpo came to the United States early in 1922 and after some delay obtained a match with Sailor Mated, at Newark, N. J. Firpo won by a knockout in seven rounds and then in succession stopped two other lesser heavyweights light, Italian Jack Hernandez and Joe McNam, before returning to the Argentine.

Yet unheeded and crude in the finer points of the game, Firpo showed enough promise to attract attention of boxing experts. After bowling over Jay Tracey, Australian, in Buenos Aires, Firpo signed an agreement with Tex Rickard to return to this country for a series of fights, the last with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight title if he won the other.

That marked the rise of Firpo to national prominence and recognition as a title contender. He bowled over Bill Brennan, Jack McAuliffe, and they halted a comeback by Jess Willard, besides scoring a number of minor victories here and on a barnstorming trip to Cuba and Mexico. He had battled his way to the top of the heavyweight challenging heap and the title match was a natural outcome.

Needless to say, that last game was watched with intense interest throughout the country. Baseball fans were all "hat up." For a championship was at stake. And championships aren't won in a day.

But the Tigers, with their backs to the proverbial wall, and on hostile soil, aided by the great pitching of "Wild Bill" Donovan, turned back the chesty Chicago gang, and won their second pennant in as many seasons. Not a single run did the White Sox get off the offerings of Donovan that day, so well was the "Smiler" the master of ceremonies, while the Tigers almost annihilated the Chicago hurlers, leaving no "ifs and ands" as to the rightful victor. And thus ended the 1928 pennant race in the American League. A campaign that no doubt ranks without parallel in the history of baseball.

The umpire erred in calling the pitch a ball and walking the baseman. The rule is very specific relating to a pitcher accidentally dropping the ball in the act of delivering same to the batter. With the bases empty no penalty is imposed.

For the umpire to have ruled it a ball was a mistake. The error on the part of the umpire placed the run on first that won the game. A protest was in order on the part of the team in the field and would have been upheld.

The umpire should have simply ignored the failure to deliver the ball, treating it merely as an accident.

GREB WINS

Harry Greb smiles in the thirteenth round of the fight in New York in which he won the middleweight title from Johnny Wilson. This gives a good idea of what the fight was like—a 15-round war.

Giants Split Even While Cincinnati Reds Lost on Labor Day

Chicago, Sept. 4.—(By The Associated Press.)—The New York Nationals broke even yesterday. Cincinnati lost and Pittsburgh crept up to a position where they may be considered as serious National League contenders. The Reds now are 3 1/2 games behind the Giants and the Pirates are only one game behind the Reds.

The Giants broke even with Boston, winning the first 3 to 2 and losing the second 8 to 1.

The Philadelphia Nationals acquired one side of a double-header in Brooklyn, 4 to 2, while Brooklyn took the other, 5 to 4.

In the Americans the Yankees, Cleveland and Detroit each won twice. The Indians defeated St. Louis 4 to 2 and 5 to 7; the Yanks won the first from Philadelphia after 13 innings, 2 to 1, and the second was won with a three-run rally in the eighth. The Tigers won from the White Sox, 14 to 1, and 6 to 5.

Pittsburgh won from Cincinnati, 7 to 2. The afternoon game was called off because of rain.

In Chicago the St. Louis Nationals won the first game, 1 to 0, and forced the Cubs to 11 innings to win the second, 5 to 4.

The Boston Americans and Washington split in Washington, the home taking the first 5 to 4 and the visitors the second 7 to 3.

MARK TWAIN CELEBRATION IS ENDORSED

The request of Governor Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri, made in a proclamation, asking citizens to read Mark Twain's books during the month of September when a Mark Twain celebration is being held, was endorsed today by Governor Nestos. Samuel L. Clemens was born in Florida, Missouri, November 30, 1835. A Mark Twain Memorial Park Association has been organized for the purpose of purchasing the house and the adjoining land for the establishment of a Mark Twain park.

"While I do not intend to issue a proclamation for the setting aside of a Mark Twain week in the state of North Dakota, I do feel that he has so cheered and comforted thousands of our people who have read his books and will still delight in his good sense to read them, that I am very glad indeed to join in the request of Governor Hyde and the officials of the Mark Twain Memorial Park Association of Moberly, Missouri, in urging upon the people of North Dakota that during the month of September while this celebration is being held, they read Mark Twain books and become more familiar with this splendid American author," Governor Nestos said.

NESTOS URGES APPRECIATION OF ALL LABOR

Necessity for Higher Regard For Manual Exertion Is Urged in Labor Day Speech

SPEAKS AT GRANVILLE

Granville, N. D., Sept. 4.—Governor R. A. Nestos, speaking at a Labor Day celebration here, declared "we need more of an appreciation of the need of physical labor and a higher regard for those who faithfully engage in any useful employment."

With the audience including many farmers and business men the Governor, in his speech, also emphasized his belief in the need for diversified agriculture in North Dakota. The Governor said in part:

"This day has been set aside by law as a labor day, a day upon which we give serious thought to the need and dignity of labor, and to a serious consideration of the rights and duties of those who engage in useful labor of any kind and so contribute to the upbuilding of the community, state, and country of which such laborer is a member."

"We need more of an appreciation of the need of physical labor and a higher regard for those who faithfully engage in any useful employment. You will agree with me, I am sure, that the man who contributes a fair day's work is justly entitled to a full day's pay, and also that the laborer who hires out to do a day's work should not be permitted to draw a full day's wage for the doing of a half day's work. We should and must treat the laborer fairly but he in return, must treat the employer and the community fairly or he has failed to meet properly the duties and obligations resting upon him. There never has been and there never will be a better and truer measure of the respective duties, obligations and rights of employers and employees than is the Golden Rule. When both the farmer and his laborer, the contractor and their workers, and all others seek to do unto others as they would wish those others to do unto them, there will be no serious labor troubles and a much greater happiness and prosperity will be the lot of every person and community."

Community Building
"But today we are especially interested in community building and in a consideration of all the elements, including labor, that go into the growth and development of any community."

"In the main, the strength and greatness of any community or commonwealth depends upon the character and traits of the individual citizens and how intelligently and successfully these citizens work together in building the life of such community and commonwealth. In this process, there are many elements to be considered. From one viewpoint, these may be divided into the personal and community characteristics, and the success of any community will depend upon the highest development of each of these. We need an educated citizenship—men and women able to read and write to such an extent as to understand the news of the day and the duties and responsibilities of citizenship. No community or state can be successful unless its citizens in the main have such an education. In addition to that, and just as important, is the development of character. The citizenship of such a community should be imbued with a sense of civic responsibility for the right conduct not only of such person but of all of his neighbors. The home, the schools, and the church should contribute to the development of that kind of character and, if successful, should insure the stability of the community."

"In recent years there has been a tendency to undermine and to destroy the tremendous influence for good that lies in a properly functioning home and church. It is to be hoped that with the growing realization of the danger to our modern civilization which lies in this development, there will come a purpose and will to preserve the sanctity of the home, to discourage divorces, encourage respect for and obedience to parents, and to promote a spirit that will cling to the fundamentals in our religious faith."

Questions For Community

"Then comes the question of the economic life of the community and the demand that each person, no matter what his business—farming, store-keeping, banking, lumber yard, or anything else—shall not only understand his own business thoroughly but be able to see it in relationship to all other lines of business in his neighborhood and to the world about him. It has been said before, and it is well to emphasize it again, that whether you be a farmer or engaged in business in town, it is well for you first of all, wherever possible, to own your own business. In addition to that, it is of the utmost importance that you know it, mind it, and run it. You can make no success of it unless you do know it, mind it, and run it, and ordinarily you will find much more pleasure and profit in the conduct of the business of which you are also the owner. I am glad to know that Granville as a community has progressed way beyond the great majority of the communities of this state during the past ten years, and especially that you have made such splendid progress in diversified farming."

LEADING FIGURES IN WAR CRISIS INVOLVING GREECE AND ITALY

Here are three high Greek officials, all members of the Revolutionary Committee which was responsible for the overthrow of the Constantine regime and re-establishment of the present government. Left to right: Admiral Hatikrakos, commander of the Greek naval forces; Premier Gonatas, and Colonel Plasteras, only remaining active member of the committee.

"Upon careful investigation of conditions in the various communities of this state, I have become convinced that unless each community succeeds in getting its farmers, with the encouragement of the business men, to adopt as the community slogan "Raise upon the farm, outside of wheat and rye, a sufficient variety and amount of products to furnish the living of the family that works such farms," we cannot expect to build a prosperous and happy community life. If you are a one-crop community, even though that crop be a splendid one like our wheat, you cannot depend upon continued success and prosperity. There is so much that may happen to it. Lack of moisture, hot winds, rust, saw flies, hail storms, low prices, and other things may come in to prevent the man who works the land from getting even his living from it. Instead of building your community structure on one pillar like that, which is though a big one, would it not be much wiser to erect it upon ten or twelve different pillars consisting of the various products such as milk cows, beef cattle, hogs, sheep, poultry, bees, corn, clover, alfalfa, potatoes, or the garden, and that which can be successfully raised in your community and then even if one or two or three of these should fail you will almost invariably be getting enough out of the other products so that you can furnish the living of the family until such time as better general crops shall produce better conditions."

Slogan For Adoption
If you farmers will adopt that slogan and make sure that in the years to come you will raise upon your splendid lands all the cream, butter, beef, pork, poultry, honey, corn, potatoes and garden truck needed not only for your family but in this community with enough left of these products to help supply the city of Minot and other places you will build in this community so dependable a form of agriculture as to insure your success and prosperity in the years to come."

"Be always open-minded and willing to learn from each other and from the farmers of other communities what to raise and how to raise it, that you may be able to produce quality products of whatever kind you grow in this community, and I am sure that the future of Granville and this neighborhood will be absolutely assured and that the lessons from your success will inspire many another community in this state."

CLOSER TOUCH LEGION HEAD'S AIM FOR YEAR

F. B. Streeter Will Seek To Improve Relations With The Various Posts

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 4.—"The American Legion stands to become one of the greatest organizations in the United States for fostering wholesome American patriotism, for the protection of our cherished institution and for furthering a feeling of mutual good will among all our citizens," says Frank B. Streeter of Lincoln, newly elected commander of the American Legion, in a statement from headquarters. "It is our duty to strengthen the hand of our legally constituted authorities throughout the land, to assist in the complete Americanization of all who dwell among us, and to bring to the attention of all the many blessings which are bestowed upon us by our American citizenship. In all these matters I know that I will receive the hearty co-operation and support of all members of the American Legion in the department of North Dakota, and that through our joint efforts, we, of this department, will be able to maintain a high place among the departments of the organization throughout the nation."

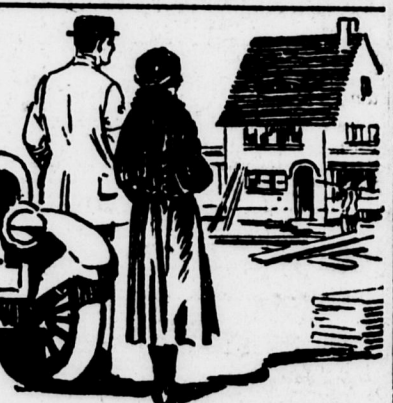

Commenting upon his plans for the Legion during the coming year, Mr. Streeter said, "I expect to pay particular attention to the matter of building up the strength of the department as well as to continue the excellent program of economy in the expense of operating the business of the department which was so successfully carried out during the past year. It was a pleasure to all of us who were at the Wahpeton convention to know that our indebtedness had been completely wiped out."

Mr. Streeter further stated: "I was authorized by the last convention to provide district deputies or representatives for each of the six judicial districts of the state, and the names of those deputies will be announced as soon as the list has been completed. It is impossible for any state commander to properly cover the department and to secure the closer personal touch with the individual posts which is so necessary in keeping up the local interest in the organization. I believe that the plan adopted at Wahpeton will have a very beneficial effect along that line and will tend to bring the state organization in closer contact with the individual posts."

PARAMOUNT WEEK TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Local Theater to Join in National Demonstration

The Eltinge, together with thousands of other theatres throughout the country, will observe this week as Paramount Week.

Paramount Week, the first week in each theatrical season, has come to be established in the motion picture trade as marking the industry's best effort, and this year it is expected by motion picture people that this Paramount Week will be more successful than ever held heretofore. The purpose of each Paramount Week is to focus the attention of the public on the advances made during the year in the motion picture art and to show that during the coming season the theatres playing the better type of pictures will warrant the patronage of their public.

As one of the steps toward raising the artistic standards of pictures, the producers of Paramount Pictures, the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, have reduced the number of pictures which they will release this year. Paramount Pictures to be released this season by the Famous Players-

Lasky Corporation include the following:

Madge Kennedy in "The Purple Highway"; a James Cruze special, "Hollywood"; with 22 stars and 56 screen celebrities; a George Melford special with Jacqueline Logan, "Glamorous Jane" from the story by "Bret Harter"; an Allan Dwan special, "Lawful Larceny"; Gloria Swanson in "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," a Sam Wood production; "The Silent Partner" with Letitia Joy and Owen Moore; a Zane Grey special "To the Last Man" with Lois Wilson and Richard Dix; Pola Negri in "The Cheat," a George Fitzmaurice production; James Cruze's production of "Ruggles of Red Gap" from the famous novel by Harry Leon Wilson; "The Marriage Maker," a William de Mille production from Edward Knoblock's play "The Feud," Gloria Swanson in "Zaza"; an Allan Dwan production; Thomas Meighan in "Woman-Proof," from the story of George Ade; "His Children's Children," with Bebe Daniels; "There's a Fortune in It," a James Cruze production; "Every Day Love," a William de Mille production from Julian Street's novel, "Rita Coventry"; a Zane Grey production, "The Heritage of the Desert," directed by Irvin Willat; Thomas Meighan in "Pied Piper Malone"; Pola Negri in "My Man"; Glenn Hunter in "When Knights Were Bold"; "Triumph" a Cecil B. REFIT WALES' CRUISER London, Sept. 4.—The battle cruiser Renown which carried the Prince of Wales on his tours of Canada, Australia and the Far East, is to undergo a refitting which will change her from a floating palace into a first class fighting ship. This ship and her sister-ship, the Repulse, were built on the theory that speed was above ornament but after the performance of the similar ship, the Invincible, in the battle of Jutland, this theory has been put in the waste basket.

The estimated cost of putting the Renown on a level with the best ship in her class will be $4,000,000. She cost originally $15,000,000.
